Dear President Obama:

On behalf of the nationwide membership of the American Hellenic Institute (AHI), I am pleased to present the Obama-Biden campaign with an opportunity to convey its support of the Greek American community and to present its positions on the issues affecting the Greek American community—much like it did in 2008. These issues include: U.S. relations with Greece and Cyprus, freedom of religion for the Ecumenical Patriarchate, and U.S. interests in southeastern Europe and eastern Mediterranean region.

Our Request

We kindly request and would appreciate an Obama-Biden campaign statement to the Greek American community that addresses each of the five policy areas presented by the enclosed condensed AHI policy statements on: 1) importance of southeastern Europe and eastern Mediterranean, 2) Greece, 3) Cyprus, 4) religious freedom for the Ecumenical Patriarchate, and 5) Turkey.

The AHI policy statements on Greek American issues, which have been endorsed by major Greek American organizations, are meant to provide the basis for an Obama-Biden campaign statement. For further reference, we have enclosed the 2008 Obama-Biden campaign statement as well as excerpts from statements made by the Clinton-Gore campaigns. Please be assured that AHI will facilitate distribution of your positions so that it will reach the entire Greek American community.

About AHI

AHI is proud of the role it has played to keep elected leaders and top government officials abreast of issues that impact U.S. relations with Greece and Cyprus as well as crucial developments in southeastern Europe and eastern Mediterranean region.
